Former President of Mexico Forced to Make Race, He Declares

Lack of Capable Candidates Given in Manifesto as Reason for Entry
MEXICO CITY, June 24. (Exclusive)—Former President Obregon will formally announce his candidacy for the Presidency of Mexico in a manifesto to be published throughout the republic tomorrow. This policy, the manifesto says, will be a continuation of the nationalistic aims initiated by Carranza and sustained by subsequent administrations. Such a policy, he maintains in the manifesto, will continue present friendly relations with other countries "but always on a basis of mutual respect."

MUTINEERS IN MUTINY
Convicts Give Up After Fight
Hungry Men in Kansas Mine "Beat Up" Their Leaders and Then Surrender

ALL SHOW STRAIN OF ORDER UNDERGROUND WHEN THEY ARRIVE AT SURFACE
LANSING (Kan.) June 24. (P)—A short, fierce battle within the ranks of the 228 mutinous convict in the Kansas penitentiary coal mine resulted in victory late today for the forces favoring surrender, and ended the uprising.

PROMISED NOTHING
Shortly before the men announced their willingness to come to the top, Dr. Charles S. Huffman, chairman of the State Board of Administration, had assured a spokesman that the convicts over the telephone that "we can't promise you anything, except that your demands will be considered fairly and impartially."

SOME OF THEM SICK
Nothing else was said to the convicts. Several of the mutineers were carried from the mine hoist. Some were sick, others showed unmistakable evidence of the underground fight. One convict hurled a brick at another as they reached the surface. The man hit was knocked unconscious and taken to the hospital.

SEVERAL GUARDS ILL
Several of the guards were sick when they were brought to the surface. "We have had nothing to eat since Tuesday morning," Charles Nicholson, one guard told the warden. "It was an awful thing to go through," Charles Hamilton, another guard said. "You can't know how awful it was unless you were down there."

LONGEST MUTINY
When word reached the surface that the men were ready to come up, the night guards were called to reinforce the day guards about the mine hoist. The 100 guards, all equipped with shotguns, stood guard over the top as the hoists began bringing the men up. The first group of the hungry men came up shortly after 4 o'clock, and fifteen minutes later the mine was emptied of the mutineers.

Ruth Smashes Two Homers; Lou One

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) June 24. (AP)—Babe Ruth hit two more home runs today but they do not count in his effort to beat his record of fifty-nine established in 1923. The blow came during an exhibition game between New York and the Springfield Eastern League team, the Yanks winning, 10 to 7. Lou Gehrig, Ruth's rival for home-run honors, also hit a homer.

MERCURY TEAM IS WEAKENED

Jack Williams and Hill Unable to Accompany Club to Nationals

On the eve of the A.A.U. tryouts, the track-and-field team of the Los Angeles Athletic Club received its heaviest blow when Jack Williams, pole-vault star, and John Hill, broad jumper, both members of the Olympic team, were informed that they would be unable to compete for the L.A.C. in the national track meet in Lincoln, Neb.

The loss of these two mainstays of the club will complete minus a sure 4 points and a possible 10 points that Williams and Hill would have scored.

Williams cannot compete due to a sprained ankle that he suffered in an exhibition given at a benefit at the Shrine Auditorium recently. The injured member

YANKEE ACES IN FIELD DAY

Helen Wills and Bunny Ryan Ring Up Triumphs

Bill Tilden and Hunter Are Also Victorious

Playing of Mrs. Kitty Godfree Impresses Critics

WIMBLEDON (Eng.) June 24. (AP)—American players had a field day here on the first day of the Wimbledon tennis championships. They won four out of five matches today, with no defeats, not including the success of an American in the second round of the men's doubles team.

Each member of the American team of the Wimbledon tennis championships, Helen Wills and Bill Tilden, won a victory in the singles.

Elizabeth Ryan, William T. Tilden and Francis Hunter—won a victory in the doubles.

They reached the quarter-finals with the exception of Helen Wills, who is a round behind her team-mates in the play.

Watson M. Washburn, paired with Takashi Harada, Japan, won over the Hon. C. Campbell and St. James Mahoney, Ireland, in the second round of the men's doubles, 6-0, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2. The "half-victory" for the Americans came when L. A. Godfree and D. M. Craig retired in the third set of their match against Tilden and Hunter in the second round of the men's doubles. The Americans were leading, 6-0, 10-4, and the third set was tied at 1-1 when the English pair withdrew on account of an injury to Craig's knee.

Hunter was the only one of the "big four" to have a real battle in the singles today. The others all won in straight sets.

Hunter's entry into the quarter-finals was disputed today by J. C. Gregory, who makes among England's first five players. Their meeting was a battle royal with Hunter finally winning by the score of 6-4, 7-5, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3. The match of Yorkshire grit against American spirit was fully as close as the score indicated and it was only by a wonderful finish that Hunter saved the match after trailing 1-3 in the final set. He unfolded a great burst of speed to win five straight games and take the set and match.

Hunter was much the steadier in the critical stages of the match and kept up a constant attack against his opponent's backhand. Hunter faces another "tremor" down back in the quarter-finals, for Henri Cochet, one of France's "three musketeers," stands between him and the semifinals.

Tilden had little difficulty in disposing of Christian Bousseau, young French player, whom he defeated, 6-1, 7-5, 6-2, to become the first player to reach the quarter-finals. In the first set the nervous French youth was somewhat bewildered by Big Bill's famous cannon-ball service, which was further complicated by a strong cross-court wind which caused trouble for many players during the day. In the second set Bousseau assumed considerable familiarity with the cannon-ball service. By brilliant returns he held the match even up to five-all. Then Tilden was out of the set and there was very little struggle in the remainder of the match.

Helen Wills eliminated Miss Eileen Bennett, of England, 7-5, 6-3, after the English girl had made a very creditable showing. Miss Wills made a poor start. She trailed 1-4 in the first set. Then Miss Bennett maintained her lead up to 5-3 and the ninth game was love-ten to Miss Wills.

Sheik Catcher's Hit Drives Across Trio to Provide Big Fireworks of Vittmen's Five-Run Rally

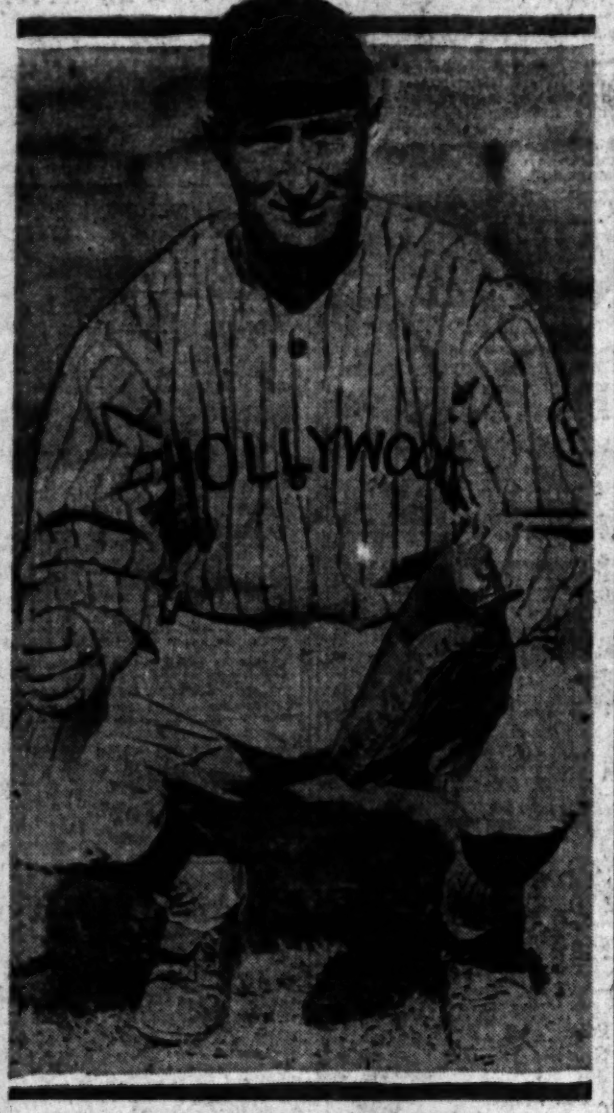

It was the Hollywood Stars' turn to win in the ninth inning yesterday, Oscar Vitt's pepped-up athletes doing the deed to a queen's taste by banging the offerings of Earl Hamilton for five runs in the final frame to emerge with a 9-to-4 victory. When the ninth inning started, the clubs were embraced in a 4-to-4 deadlock, but you can see for yourself the condition of things after the dust had settled down on the Hollywood half of the final round.

The Stars now have a 3-to-1 edge over the Angels, who are striving to stick in seventh place. To climb out of the cellar the Stars must win the three remaining contests.

Yesterday's ninth-inning finish made it three games in a row that have been won in the last round. The Stars started the run on Wednesday when they showed over four runs in the ninth to take the Angels all kinds of dirty

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, ARK.—ATOGA LAKE (N. Y.) June 24. (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, arrived here this afternoon to begin training for his fight with Jess Taylor, who will remain over Sunday.

Dempsey, looking fit on his thirty-second birthday, said he would not begin training until Monday. In the meantime he will be busy getting settled in the same camp where he prepared for his fight with Jess Taylor.

NEW YORK GRANTS LICENSE TO EX-CHAMP

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—Jack Dempsey was granted a license to box in New York by the State Athletic Commission today. Dempsey, who yesterday signed to meet Jess Taylor at the Yankee Stadium, July 31, was refused a license when he applied last year before his championship bout with Gene Tunney, originally scheduled for New York. He made a new application for a license yesterday.

The commission approved Tex Rickard's application to let $27.50 as the maximum limit for tickets for the Dempsey-Tunney bout.

ILLINOIS COMMISSION WANTS TITLE FIGHT

CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—The Illinois Athletic Commission wants Tex Rickard to stage the Gene Tunney-Jack Dempsey heavyweight championship fight in Chicago next fall.

The commission will place no obstacles in Rickard's path if he selects Chicago as the battleground.

That was the statement today by John C. Rigney, chairman of the commission, when asked about revived reports that Rickard had completed arrangements to bring the match here, provided Dempsey wins from Sharkey in their New York battle on July 31.

James C. Mullin and Joe Coffey, Chicago boxing promoters, are understood to be favorably inclined to become associated with Rickard in promoting a heavyweight championship fight, Soldiers Field, located in Grant Park in Chicago's front yard, is available to Rickard as a site. It can be arranged to seat at least 150,000 persons.

MANDELL SIGNS UP FOR MCGRAW RING GO

DETROIT, June 24. (AP)—Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Ill., lightweight champion, signed articles today for a ten-round championship bout here with Phil McGraw of Detroit on July 15. Mandell receives a guarantee of $50,000, while McGraw is guaranteed $7500 and a bonus of $5000, if the gate receipts exceed $125,000.

McLARNIN WINNER OVER PELKEY IN SLOW FIGHT

In the feature event at the Hollywood Legion Stadium last night, although the fans protested vigorously, the point score showed six rounds for the Irish Wizard, and four for the Filipino, but the latter got the cheers of the populace when he left the ring, and James gathered the fern.

Pelkey hit McLarnin flush on the chin with a short right-hander in the fourth round, and the Irishman dropped to his hands. He bounced right up again, but lost the round by a wide margin. Pelkey crashed three more right-handers to the chin during the course of the ensuing three minutes, and it was on this showing that the bugs gave him the cheers.

McLarnin contented himself with jabbing to the head without much punch or power. He had been warned about hitting too early in the fight.

SMITH DRAWS SUSPENSION AND FINE

NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—President John A. Heydler of the National League, today fined Earl Smith, catcher of the Pittsburgh club, $500, and suspended him for thirty days from the 18th inst., for what the league executive termed "a vicious and brutal assault on a player of a competing club."

Smith has been under indefinite suspension since he assaulted Manager Dave Bancroft of the Boston club in a game at Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, last Saturday.

JONES TO SAIL FOR ENGLAND

Will Defend British Open Championship Next Month; Kirkwood Goes Too

ATLANTA, June 24. (AP)—Bobby Jones, British open golf champion, tonight was on the first leg of a hurriedly decided trip to St. Andrews, Scotland, in defense of his title.

With him today when he boarded the Piedmont Limited, bound for New York and the boat for England, was Stewart Maiden, veteran professional at the Eastlake Country Club here, who, according to Bob himself, taught Jones "almost all I know about the game."

Those who will follow the play at St. Andrews profess great optimism.

CRIMSON SQUAD COPS BIG TILT

Cambridge Men Capture First Race in Seven Years

Red Oarsmen Take Lead from Start of Battle

Eli Boat Almost Upsets With One Mile to Go

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW LONDON (Ct.) June 24. (AP)—Leading from start to finish of a thrilling four-mile race, Harvard's varsity swept out of the shadow of defeat this evening to conquer Yale for the first time in seven years in the climax event of America's most historic college regatta.

The Crimson's stalwart fighting eight won by fully three-quarters of a length in the long drive down the Thames River. Next, if not all of this margin, was gained when momentary disaster—the catching of a "crab"—hit the Eli shell and virtually put it out of the race with a mile to go, just when it seemed to be overwhelming the Cambridge crew.

It was a brilliant triumph for Harvard's sturdy oars, the first they have known in this classic since 1920, but it was also a heart-breaking defeat for a Yale boat that entered the race a slight favorite and might have won for the seventh successive year but for the upset that threw it out of gear for a few precious seconds.

This sudden and dramatic break in the heralded Eli machine, the product of the same "system" that had sent two crews, the freshman and junior, varsity, to sensational and record-making triumphs over Harvard in the preliminary races earlier in the day, came at a moment when the Eli, coming from behind, seemed to be cutting down Harvard's lead with swift surges.

To observers along the banks and in the observation trains, it seemed that the Eli number 22, Duke Bartholomew of Ansonia, Ct., lost his stroke—failing to get his oar out of the water as he caught waves.

SERAPHS RAISE FLAG TODAY

Today will be pennant-raising day at Wrigley Field. Marty Krug's Angels, who galloped off with the Coast League championship last season and apparently are still winded from their efforts, are scheduled to flaunt in the June breeze the gonfalon that they won in 1926.

A squad of marines, Mayor George Cryer, and Gov. C. C. Young will be on hand to see that the flag is raised with all the dignity befitting the occasion. The ceremony will start at 2 o'clock. Bud Teaschout, former Oyo southpaw, who is now with the Stars, and Bruce Cunningham, promising Angel right-hander, are scheduled to oppose each other in a hurling duel featuring youth. It will mark Teaschout's debut in professional ball.

BANK DIVIDENDS AT HUGE TOTAL

Pacific-Southwest and First National Rate Highest

Bank of Italy Disbursement Largest in Aggregate

Total from Ten Institutions to Approach $5,000,000

How Los Angeles banks will contribute to the widely advertised July dividend payments which will be received by thousands of stockholders in and around Los Angeles was reported yesterday by the statistical department of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange from the quarterly dividend announcements received from the nine banks and one investment trust specializing in bank stocks, which are listed on the exchange. The amount of these financial institutions will receive for their shareholders is approximately $5,000,000.

Dividend checks representing this amount will be mailed by the banks to stockholders around the first of the month. The bank stocks are now selling at a premium on the exchange, or less the amount of the quarterly dividend. Transfer books are closed until the dividends are paid.

ACTUAL FIGURES
At this rate the annual disbursements in dividends by these ten financial institutions, which are listed in Los Angeles, will amount to about $20,000,000. The actual figure for the quarterly payments on July 1 is $4,750,000, or at the annual rate of $19,000,000. Undoubtedly the actual amount that the banks will have distributed to stockholders at the end of the year will be considerably swelled when the quarterly dividends in succeeding quarters are announced. Each of the Los Angeles banks has been continuing at a satisfactory rate, and several have announced a ready this year increases in the regular rate or extra dividends. The extra, however, usually comes in the last quarter of the year.

HIGHEST RATE
The quarterly dividend of $5.00 on the First National beneficial corporation, representing ownership of the First National-Pacific-Southwest banking group, is the largest single regular dividend of any of the Los Angeles banks. To the Bank of Italy goes the credit for the largest distribution to stockholders, the quarterly payment by this bank of $4.00 on its $100 stock. The annual rate was recently increased from $3.00 to $4.00 on the new $25 par-value stock. The Bancitaly Corporation, while showing more in the category of a holding company, is actually the largest distributor of bank dividends. This corporation will pay out $1,000,000 in dividends. Next comes Security Trust and Savings Bank, which will distribute $400,000, followed by the First National-Pacific-Southwest Bank, $300,000; National City Bank, $250,000; Merchants' National Bank, $150,000; California Bank, $100,000; Farmers and Merchants' National Bank, $50,000; Union Bank, $50,000, and United States National, $50,000.

LIQUOR THEFT ACTION NEARS

Indictments Expected in Raid on Warehouse Here.

Federal Grand Jury Calls Two for Questioning

Prospect of Nine or More Arrests Reported

After the federal grand jury suddenly sidetracked its investigation into the Orange county liquor scandal yesterday and plunged into the matter of pilage of a government liquor warehouse here on December 10, 1926, it was reported last night that ten or more indictments were forthcoming in the latter case at an early date. Investigating officials, however, would not comment on the report.

The case in question pertains to the theft of more than 700 cases of liquor from the warehouse on the grand jury yesterday morning. Action of the grand jury yesterday is believed to have been prompted because several of the persons suspected are not yet under arrest.

Witnesses called

William H. Worrell, under indictment in connection with the warehouse pilage, was called before the grand jury yesterday morning. J. E. Walsh, recently arrested in Denver in connection with the same case, also had been called before the grand jury to explain his part in the case.

That a definite solution of the robbery has been found by the grand jury was stated by the grand jury yesterday morning. At least nine persons are expected to be taken into custody within the next forty-eight hours. Among those arrested to be implicated in the robbery is a well-known Los Angeles bell boy, it was reported.

OTHER PROSECUTIONS

In addition to the bell boy, a former investigator for the prohibition department and a local attorney also may be taken into custody. It was stated that no indication was made of the identity of the other six persons who were said to be sought last night by deputy United States marshals armed with warrants.

United States Attorney McCabe yesterday indicated that the theft of liquor from the Orange County Jail may be taken up by the incoming grand jury, which will meet for the first time tomorrow. The present grand jury will reconvene the 29th inst.

Los Angeles—with our business and vocational service is doing important work in that direction.

CITY TO BID FOR AIR SPEED MEET

Aeronautic Association in Move to Raise Purse

Date Coincides With Fall Fleet Maneuvers

Invitation for Visit Sent to Col. Lindbergh

Prospects of bringing the international air speed race to Los Angeles in September, 1928, loomed last night when directors of the National Aeronautic Association, Southern California chapter, at a dinner at the Ambassador, organized the nucleus of a committee to work on the project and to meet with business men with a view to raising $100,000 to underwrite the meet.

In addition to the competition for the Pulitzer prize, the Snyder cup races for seaplanes might also be brought into the event which they are won by the United States this year.

It was pointed out that the maneuvers of the United States fleet, which will be conducted here next fall, will be the two carrier ships, Lexington and the Saratoga, would make Los Angeles a propitious place for the races.

LOGICAL PLACE FOR MEET

"Southern California is going to be a center of aeronautic interest for the next few years," Charles H. Babb, secretary of the organization, said, "for the Pacific is the only large territory remaining in the world which has not been subjected by airplanes. Los Angeles is the logical place for the meet next year."

The directors agreed to act as the nucleus of a committee and arrange a meeting with divs and business leaders of Los Angeles in the near future to underwrite the meet.

The directors also voted to send a formal invitation to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to visit Los Angeles at his convenience.

OFFICES INSPECTED

A new office of the association, opened in the Ambassador for the night, was inspected by the members.

Those who attended the dinner included: Dr. E. McDonald, president; Charles H. Babb, secretary; V. Pritchard, editor of Western Flying; Walter Hamm, balloon officer; Elmer W. Bunker, president of the Los Angeles chapter of the National Aeronautic Association; and John Brown, advertising manager.

Historic Street Names

LOS ANGELES, June 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Having now, that we might not be accused of Babbittism, about erased Main street from our city map—and thus shown ourselves bigger Babbitts than that hero ever was—why not go the whole hog and carry through the effort? Surely our discredited and kicked-out City Councilmen will not refuse, in the few days left them, to continue the good (?) work of soon-to-be-retired personnel have initiated. Certainly there are streets still in Los Angeles with names that some mortals would rejoice to see reduced to common terms.

Figueras, for instance—few can correctly pronounce it, fewer still spell it. Why not change it to Cryer avenue and make a miffed Mayor merrily mispronounce street names as they pass? Why not change it to Parrot street? Didn't he slip down a hill beside which even that is a gentle incline? Virgil avenue—whether heard of that or Virgil? They thought he was in Hollywood, but there's already one such; however, surely some Councilman would offer his cognomen—without the ex, of course—to be wished upon it. Criswell Boulevard, Frimance, would be something else again. We already have both a Boyle avenue and a Workman street—plebeian names, that—or the former representative of that war, and Councilman Criswell, might volunteer there for the benefit of those who helped ease him out of his job.

And, if they run out of their own names, there are the adopted monikers of our movie stars? By not utilizing these surely a Pickford avenue should supplant Sepulveda—a Louise Lovely way replaces a San Vicente—why not? We might have a Prince Midvinter Boulevard if Polk and Mac would ever agree which husband it should house, in place of La Brea. And certainly a De la Falaise avenue would suit some tastes better than a La Cienega.

Long since, we began to throw away our old-fashioned thoroughfare names. Faith, Hope Charity lost two-thirds of their effect when the first was rechristened Flower and the last Grand—of all puerile shifts. Downey is gone—North Broadway how. Temple is faded. And they'd like to let Spring fade into City Hall avenue. Shades of our Native Sons!

Radio Program

LA MESA, June 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] On July 1 the nation to the north of us celebrates the sixtieth anniversary of its confederation as the Dominion of Canada. The Canadians are making this a jubilee year and from Nova Scotia in the east to British Columbia in the west July 1 (Dominion Day) will be marked by celebrations. At Ottawa, the capital of the Dominion, an elaborate program has been prepared under the auspices of the Federal government.

I read in Ottawa papers that the program includes what will be the most widespread radio broadcast ever attempted. The new carillon of the Parliament Buildings will ring out for the first time and its music will be carried through Station CBNB and a network of other stations, not only throughout Canada and parts of the United States, but by means of short-wave and beam stations to Great Britain and other parts of the British Empire. The music of the carillon will be heard not only from the carillon, which incidentally is the largest in the world, but from the throats of famous singers.

In view of the large number of Canadians living in California, it is greatly to be hoped that one of the large radio stations of Los Angeles will favor the public by teleing into this mammoth broadcast network.

Picture Titles

LOS ANGELES, June 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The letter written by J. M. McChadwell, concerning the title of the motion picture, "Sims of Berlin," being inappropriate, misuses the name. Producers of pictures title their production with an eye to the return possible from the box office angle. You can imagine it. Mr. McChadwell's theory was right, the amount of harm American pictures would call down on the head of Americans. For surely some of the picture titles are perfectly stupid, which represent a number of the motion pictures America sends to Europe.

Yosemite "Rhino Deer"

During the last winter Yosemite Valley had an exclusive little side-show, in addition to the usual animal circus. The main exhibit of the side show was a "rhino deer," a deer that by some curious, freakish prank of nature, had a horn similar to that of a rhinoceros projecting through the roof of its upper jaw. It was a sight to behold, and the deer was a great attraction. Otherwise he was like any other deer, and tame as the tamest. Daily he made his rounds from house to house, seeking dainty tidbits to give variety to his diet. Like a pet dog he enjoyed having his neck stroked, until an attempt was made to touch the curious horn growth. Even the best of his friends were not permitted to do this. Then the deer began to shed his antlers, and speculation was rife in the valley as to whether the malformation on the upper jaw of Old Horny would disappear when he shed his horns. Soon he disappeared into the forests, to return without antlers and without rhino spike. Now his antlers are starting to grow again, and there seems to be evidence that the spike is coming back.

WHIRLIGIG BRAINS

BY FAITH HOLMES MYERS

"The modern brain must contain many more convolutions than the old-fashioned headpiece," remarked the Philosopher of the Breakfast Nook, "at least if the survival-of-the-fittest theory is still functioning. If giraffes developed yards of neck by stretching for the last leaf, if rabbits grow extensions on their hind quarters by hopping when the busy business man or to-day will develop a kinked brain that is warranted to make a permanent wave look straight!"

"You mean because of the solemn conferences in which the business man engages, the weighty problems he adjusts, the immense deals he handles, the distances he traverses daily by wire, cable and motor?" asked the Little Lady of the Coffee Cup.

"I refer to the myriad questions, the variety of business that comes up in a day," returned the Philosopher. "The man of affairs must have a mind like a kaleidoscope that turns round and round and makes light of the clamorous telephone, the ubiquitous publicity man, the unbusinesslike friend, the pestiferous mail deliverer, the thousand and one details that have to be attended to and squeezed in between the legitimate business duties of the day."

And what of the bustling housewife and her day? questioned the Little Lady. "In addition to running a household single-handed or at best with the assistance of an underexperienced and overprivileged maid, she belongs to five or six clubs and four improvement associations. She has to keep up on how to vote, how to invest her money, how to be a better parent and a model wife and cook; she has to absorb culture and be like a thoroughly cultured woman, she must be an authority on the latest mode in clothes, in art, music and books; she must know how to drive a car or a golf ball, serve at tea or at tennis, swim, ride, bridge and hostess. The modern woman lives a life of leisure and ease in her eighteen-hour day that makes the busy business man's life look like a pleasant pastime. For we take our men as they are—but our women (God help them) labor under the necessity of keeping young, sylphlike, unvarnished, marcelled—in a word, ornamental, no matter how useful they may be."

"I solemnly crawl into my shell," murmured the Philosopher, "in favor of the deadlier and farther sex. The convolutions evolving under the bob of the female cranium must, indeed, be wonderful to behold. In the natural course of events such a brain must assume the properties of the catapillar drive, surmounting any obstacle, driving through wire entanglements and emerging in one piece, serene, armored and untroubled rolling up a layer of philosophic calm for the retreat of a well-earned old age!"

"An anachronism—old age and modern woman," smiled the Little Lady. "The term is discarded with woman's crowning glory and belongs apart from the day of the whirligig brains."

NO-EXCUSE NEEDED

It was the morning after the night before, and a young clerk, having met too many friends, rang up his chief at home about a o'clock, explained everything, and apologized for his inability to get to the office that day.

"I appreciate your frankness," said the chief, "but don't you know you're out today? This is Sunday!"—[Weekly Scotsman.]

"The modern brain must contain many more convolutions than the old-fashioned headpiece," remarked the Philosopher of the Breakfast Nook, "at least if the survival-of-the-fittest theory is still functioning. If giraffes developed yards of neck by stretching for the last leaf, if rabbits grow extensions on their hind quarters by hopping when the busy business man or to-day will develop a kinked brain that is warranted to make a permanent wave look straight!"

"You mean because of the solemn conferences in which the business man engages, the weighty problems he adjusts, the immense deals he handles, the distances he traverses daily by wire, cable and motor?" asked the Little Lady of the Coffee Cup.

"I refer to the myriad questions, the variety of business that comes up in a day," returned the Philosopher. "The man of affairs must have a mind like a kaleidoscope that turns round and round and makes light of the clamorous telephone, the ubiquitous publicity man, the unbusinesslike friend, the pestiferous mail deliverer, the thousand and one details that have to be attended to and squeezed in between the legitimate business duties of the day."

And what of the bustling housewife and her day? questioned the Little Lady. "In addition to running a household single-handed or at best with the assistance of an underexperienced and overprivileged maid, she belongs to five or six clubs and four improvement associations. She has to keep up on how to vote, how to invest her money, how to be a better parent and a model wife and cook; she has to absorb culture and be like a thoroughly cultured woman, she must be an authority on the latest mode in clothes, in art, music and books; she must know how to drive a car or a golf ball, serve at tea or at tennis, swim, ride, bridge and hostess. The modern woman lives a life of leisure and ease in her eighteen-hour day that makes the busy business man's life look like a pleasant pastime. For we take our men as they are—but our women (God help them) labor under the necessity of keeping young, sylphlike, unvarnished, marcelled—in a word, ornamental, no matter how useful they may be."

"I solemnly crawl into my shell," murmured the Philosopher, "in favor of the deadlier and farther sex. The convolutions evolving under the bob of the female cranium must, indeed, be wonderful to behold. In the natural course of events such a brain must assume the properties of the catapillar drive, surmounting any obstacle, driving through wire entanglements and emerging in one piece, serene, armored and untroubled rolling up a layer of philosophic calm for the retreat of a well-earned old age!"

"An anachronism—old age and modern woman," smiled the Little Lady. "The term is discarded with woman's crowning glory and belongs apart from the day of the whirligig brains."

NO-EXCUSE NEEDED

It was the morning after the night before, and a young clerk, having met too many friends, rang up his chief at home about a o'clock, explained everything, and apologized for his inability to get to the office that day.

"I appreciate your frankness," said the chief, "but don't you know you're out today? This is Sunday!"—[Weekly Scotsman.]

CHEERFUL CHAFF

BY TIMBS READERS

Joshua Little ON BORES

THE bores we have always with us. Bore is not confined to any class—unfortunately, to any institution. They simply are not confined. They run at large and speak the same.

We have bores in pulpits, vaudeville, classrooms, groups of the self-made, clubs (both masculine and world-saving) and a tragically high percentage of homes.

They may not be chief cause of national unrest, but nothing else makes me so restive. They're so egotistical they're always trying to hog the conversation just when I want to hog it myself.

We're taught to admire perseverance. But bores are the most persevering of people. Many a small bore, by simple perseverance, has made himself a great bore.

Every bore would rise high and go far in the world if he could rise and go half as high and far as we would like to kick him.

It was not written, "Bored are the bores, for they shall inherit the earth." But nobody grudges one of them six feet of it.

Bored often are called non-stop-guns. But they are not full-dressed members of the gun family. They have the family traits, however. They are repeaters, go off half-cocked, and many are smooth bores.

But they lack proper aim and rarely score a direct hit.

Yes, fellows, if you have bores hanging about a tip from the booth, a gabbing can't rise unless it keeps its mouth shut.

GOLF CLUB SECRETARY (lastfully): Don't you think you would do much better without such high-headed shots?

Lady Novice: Oh, I like them. One can get such a good grip on the ground.

Elmer: And did you let him kiss you?

Novice: Let him? I had to help him. Mrs. Dodge, 647 St. Paul avenue.

Novice: I call these stockings my Blue Buds.

Funny: Why?

Novice: They have so many runs. Grace Dunbar, 1840 North St. Andrews Place.

A child is like a mosquito; the moment he stops making a noise you know he is getting into something. Mrs. E. Washburn, 145 Bush Street, Long Beach, Cal.

Novice (in sweet tones): I've admired my collar button.

With (heartily): Then for once in your life you know where you put it.

G. L. Barker, 657 South Gentry Street.

An ad: "To Trade—Ford, model 23, for two good males with light and well-kept." Mrs. J. Villar, 1444 West Adams street.

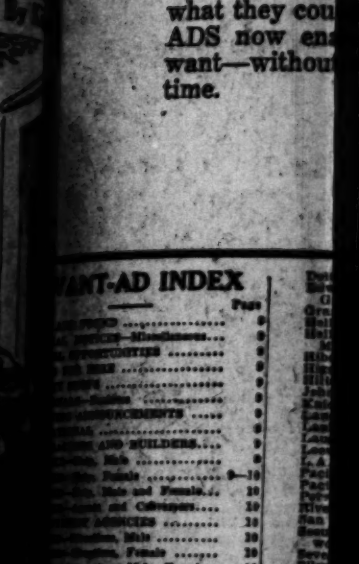

Shot: If you know who stole your car why don't you get it?

Not: I'm waiting for him to paint it. J. W. Dackman, 2541 Dunn Drive, Culver City, Cal.
